

TANZ @Bruggerhof

Maintain a ballerina.
Fairies need a forest.
Adopt a tree.

We, the company of TANZ, are growing a forest at Bruggerhof in Styria/ Austria. Throughout touring our show, we are collecting money from our audiences worldwide to maintain our forest and grow trees.

For more than 250 years, Bruggerhof has been a historic estate, 850 metres above sea level, in the heart of Austria's southern Alpine foothills. Run as a 'conventional' dairy farm with 15 cows for the most part, we now want to implement an ecologically and economically sustainable development plan by investing in regional apple production - in order to give new life to this old estate. We only plant rare traditional local varieties that have decreased in population over the last decades. For our donations we plant and maintain new 'old' apple trees that help us restore biodiversity. Our main goal is to enter a symbiotic relationship with nature.
